

From the Crimes to the Beginning of the Judicial Reappraisal of National Socialism

Conference Programme
November 19 to 20, 2025 in Marburg

On 20 November 2025, the 80th anniversary of the start of the Nuremberg International Military Tribunal will be commemorated. On this occasion, the ICWC will host a two-day symposium on 19 and 20 November 2025. As part of the event, the ICWC Annual Celebration and the 16th Marburg Lecture on International Criminal Law will take place on 19 November.

Wednesday, November 19, 2025

14:00 - 14:15 Openings
Henning de Vries, General Manager of the International Centre for War Crimes Trials

Greetings
*Stefanie Bock, Director of the International Centre for War
Crimes Trials*

14:15 - 15:45 Development of International (Criminal)
Law and its Concepts
Moderation: Eckart Conze, Marburg University

Crime and Punishment Before Nuremberg: Conceptual Origins of Penal Responsibility in International (Public)
Law
Matthias Schulz, Université de Genève

The Concept of Genocide
Lara Zieß, Marburg University

Beginnings of War, Crimes, Sanctions – A brief Insight from International Legal History
Miloš Vec, University of Vienna

15:45 – 16:15 Break

16:15 – 17:45 International Military Tribunal
Moderation: Stefanie Bock, Marburg University

The Role of Eastern European Delegations at the International Military Tribunal in Nuremberg
Sabina Ferhadbegović, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

Justice pronounced – gender (co-)negotiated? Gender and judiciary in historical perspective
Lucie Kahlert, Marburg University

Polish voices in Nuremberg and in the war crimes trials after 1945
Dominika Uczkiewicz, The Center for Totalitarian Studies, Pilecki Institute

17:45 – 18:15 Break

18:15 – 20:00 Marburg Lecture on International Criminal Law
Opening
Stefanie Bock, *Director of the International Centre for War
Crimes Trials*

Reunified Germany and international criminal law
Annette Weinke, Friedrich-Schiller-University Jena

Graduation and Certificate Award Ceremony

From 20:00 Reception

Thursday, November 20, 2025

09:00 – 10:30 German Judicial Reappraisal
Moderation: Henning de Vries, Marburg University

The Legal Reckoning of Crimes in the Barth Concentration Camp

Juliane Schwarz-Ladach, University Rostock

'In a Time Still Suffused with the Memory of What Has Occurred'. German Jurists on Justice for War Crimes in the Post War Moment

Sandra Ricker, Johns Hopkins University

Prosecuting next door – The German Judiciary and Nazi Crimes 1945-49

Boris Burghardt, Marburg University

10:30 – 11:00 Break

11:00 – 12:30 International Judicial Reappraisal
Moderation: Hendrik Geiling, Marburg University

Soviet Prosecutions of Ukrainian Judges after the Nazi Occupation: Law, Politics, and the Limits of Justice, 1943-1950

Alina Ivanenko, University of Mannheim

The Evolution of Justice: Israel's Kapo Trials and the Changing Perception of Jewish Collaboration, 1950-1964

Dan Porat, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

West German Justice and the Nazi Crimes committed in Poland

Andreas Eichmüller, nsdoku munich

12:30 – 13:30 Lunch

13:30 – 15:00 Transitional Justice and Memory
Moderation: Kerstin Zimmer, Marburg University

Can AI do justice to past crimes? Auditing the risks of Holocaust distortion in AI applications

Mykola Makhortykh, University of Bern

Nuremberg travels south – and back again: The circulation of transitional justice norms between Europe and South America

Francisco da Silva Vilela Arid, Free University of Berlin

The Language of Retribution: The Trial of K. H. Frank and the Beginnings of the Legal Reappraisal of National Socialism in Czechoslovakia

Vojtěch Kyncl, Institute of History of the Czech Academy of Sciences